Tough Measures Against Reds In Ohio Urged

Un-American Activities Group Says Party Is Clear Danger In State

COLUMBUS, O. (AP)—The Ohio Un-American Activities Commission says the Communist Party is a "clear and present danger" in Ohio and recommends new laws to combat subversives in the state.

The commission goes out of business New Year's Eve, but in a report issued Monday asked continuation of its activities.

The commission said it has uncovered enough evidence of Red activity in the last year-and-a-half to warrant the appointment of a special assistant attorney general to present findings to grand juries.

The 12-member group of state senators and representatives, headed by House Speaker Gordon Renner of Cincinnati, said communism's danger calls for a revision of state laws dealing with subversive groups and the imposition of jail sentences for those participating in them.

Asks Funds Accounting
The commission advocated laws to dissolve Communist organizations and bar Communists and members of subversive groups from special privileges or licenses issued by the state or its subdivisions. It also asked a public accounting of funds collected by public subscription and a law making refusal of a state employee to testify about Communist activities "prima facie evidence that such a person is a Communist or a knowing member of a Communist-front organization."

The commission said most Ohio laws dealing with subversives are ineffective and should be overhauled. It also said its investigations were hampered by the "complete lack of any state-wide information concerning Communists."

It complained FBI information is withheld from state and local law enforcement agencies by presidential directive.

Moscow Directed Group
The commission said the Communist Party is a Moscow-directed international conspiracy "having as its goal the violent overthrow of our democratic form of government." It said Communists are dedicated to aid Russia in the event that the United States goes to war.

"The strong concentration of basic industry with the State of Ohio ranks this state probably in second place among the areas that must be destroyed or seriously crippled to further the Soviet war effort," the commission said.

3 Dead, 3 Missing In Chicago Blaze
CHICAGO (AP)—Three persons perished and three others were believed burned to death in a fire Monday which destroyed a South Side furniture store and warehouse. An explosion preceded the spectacular blaze.

Firemen found the bodies of two men and a woman in the ruins of the four-story building of the General Furniture Co. They were identified tentatively as company employees.

Firemen said another employee, a salesman, and two unidentified woman customers were reported seen in the basement at the time of the explosion and presumably were trapped by flames. Firemen continued searching the debris for their bodies.

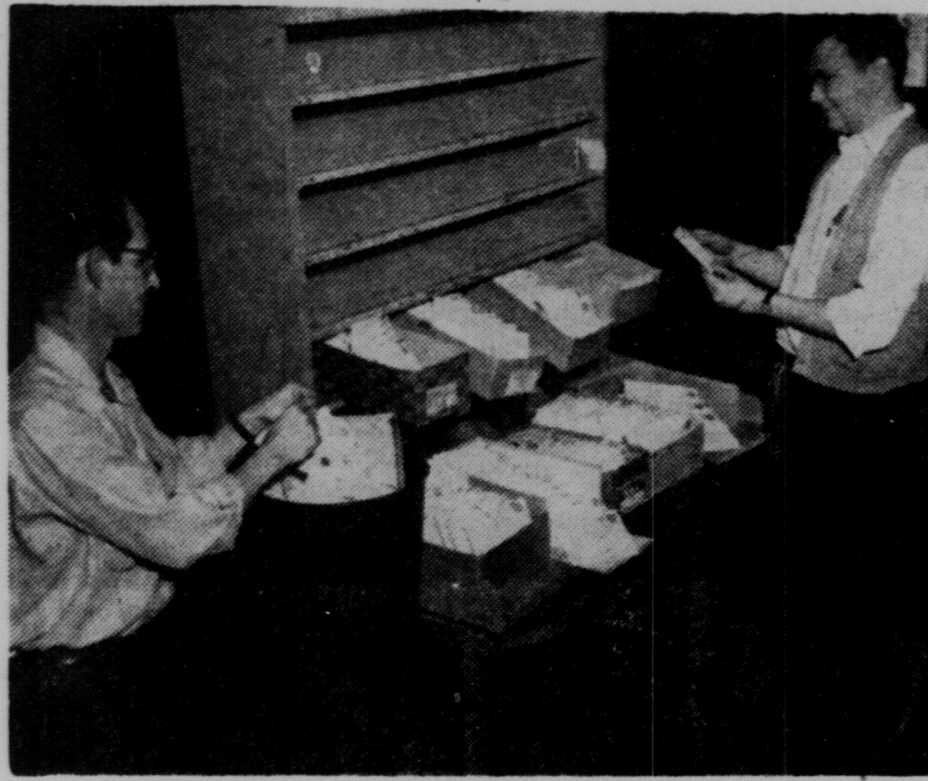

Fire officials, who estimated damages at between $100,000 and $150,000, said cause of the fire had not been determined.

DEAD LETTER FILE—Some of the nearly 6,000 letters which turned up in the Salem Post Office during the holiday rush with improper addresses are studied by Post Office Clerks Louis Moushey, left, and Earl Miller. As soon as the tide of Christmas cards left off each letter was checked by every carrier and route man to see if the person addressed is on his route. First class mail with no return address is sent to the dead letter office for possible tracing while about 2,000 letters with two cent stamps had to be thrown in the wastebasket because the person addressed was unknown, or the address was not legible.

Acheson May Testify In Probe On Interference Of Jury

WASHINGTON (AP)—A House committee today pushed its search for government interference with a Red-hunting grand jury in New York amid indications it might question Secretary of State Acheson.

The secretary's name figured yesterday as members of the jury testified that efforts were made to block their recommendation for a continuation of the hunt for Communists on the United Nations staff.

Rep. Keating (R-NY) told reporters Acheson may be summoned tomorrow. The State Department has categorically denied attempting to interfere with the grand jury.

Meanwhile, four Justice Department officials — Roy Cohn, Myles Lane, Charles Murray and William Foley — were called to give their version of the case.

The committee, which has been investigating the Justice Department for almost a year, yesterday heard from five jurors: Joseph P. Kelly, Joseph A. Cahill, Charles J. Harsany, Corinne L. Geist and Max M. Zimmerman.

They told about calling approximately 100 U. S. citizens employed by the U. N. and questioning them about their loyalty or Communist affiliations.

About half of the witnesses refused to answer their questions, the jurors reported, claiming the guarantee of the Fifth Amendment.

2 Injured In One Of 2 City Mishaps
Two persons were injured in one of two accidents on city streets Monday, police reported.

Mike William Miller, 20, of 305 W. Wilson St. was driving south on N. Lincoln Ave. at 11:06 p.m. when his car went out of control on the bend and crashed into a large Sunoco sign and other smaller signs at Tom's Service Station. The car was a complete loss.

With Miller was Miss Louise Humphreys of 424 W. Pershing St. Both were treated by a local physician for contusions and multiple laceration of the forehead.

Jerold D. Brooks, 49, Cleveland was traveling west on E. State St. at 4:41 p.m. when a vehicle driven by Jack L. Fox, 24, of Waynesburg, Pa., pulled out from a parking space in front of the Western Union and hit the right rear fender of Brooks' car.

Truman To Ask $73½ Billion Budget For '53

Deficit For '52 May Be About $5 Billion; Ike Can Alter Budget

WASHINGTON (AP)—An informed administration source said today President Truman will call upon the new Congress to vote about $73½ billion dollars in new appropriations next year.

He predicted government expenditures of "somewhat under" 80 billion dollars — subject, of course, to changes by the incoming Eisenhower administration.

Spending in the present fiscal year, the source said, will probably fall between four and five billion dollars below the latest official estimate, due to lags in defense expenditures, but tax collections will be about what was previously estimated.

That would mean a five to six billion dollar budget deficit at the end of next June in place of the present official estimate of $10-300,000,000.

Less On Cash Basis

On a cash income and outgo basis, the deficit, according to this information, from a man who asked that he not be named, would be from two to three billion dollars instead of the present estimate of nearly seven billions cash deficit. Actual government spending always varies from the amounts voted by Congress because of delivery time lags.

The present fiscal year—fiscal 1953—ends next June 30; fiscal 1954.

President-elect Eisenhower can make any changes he wishes in the budget program which the law requires Truman to lay before Congress only a fortnight before he leaves office.

Congress can also make changes.

Defense Spending Down

The Truman administration source said defense spending this fiscal year will not exceed 47 to 48 billion dollars, instead of the presently estimated 51 billions, and that total government outgo will be around 75 billions, instead of 79 billions.

He said that in the new budget, Truman will place defense expenditures for fiscal 1954 at approximately 51 billion dollars, including money already voted by Congress, and will ask for new defense appropriations of about 41 billions.

These figures did not include atomic energy expenditures, or money for construction of bases and replacement of material losses in Korea.

Thus, Truman would be recommending defense spending in fiscal 1954 of approximately three to four billion dollars more than the source estimated it will run in the current fiscal year.

Truman would be asking for new defense appropriations five billion dollars less than the 46 billions of this year. The source said other appropriation requests for fiscal 1954 will be about three billions under appropriations this year.

Truman will call for foreign aid and atomic energy expenditures of one to two billions above this year's figures, according to this information.

McCarthy Awarded 6 Marine Medals

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) received six decorations for his World War II service from the Marine Corps yesterday, almost eight years after his discharge.

The presentation, in the senator's office, was made by Col. John R. Lanigan, commanding officer of the Fifth Reserve Marine District. McCarthy, an air combat intelligence officer, flew 30 combat missions in the Pacific.

The citations—for the Distinguished Flying Cross, the Air Medal and four stars in lieu of additional air medals—were signed by Secretary of the Navy Kimball. The Distinguished Flying Cross was awarded, in the words of the citation, "for heroism and extraordinary achievement..."

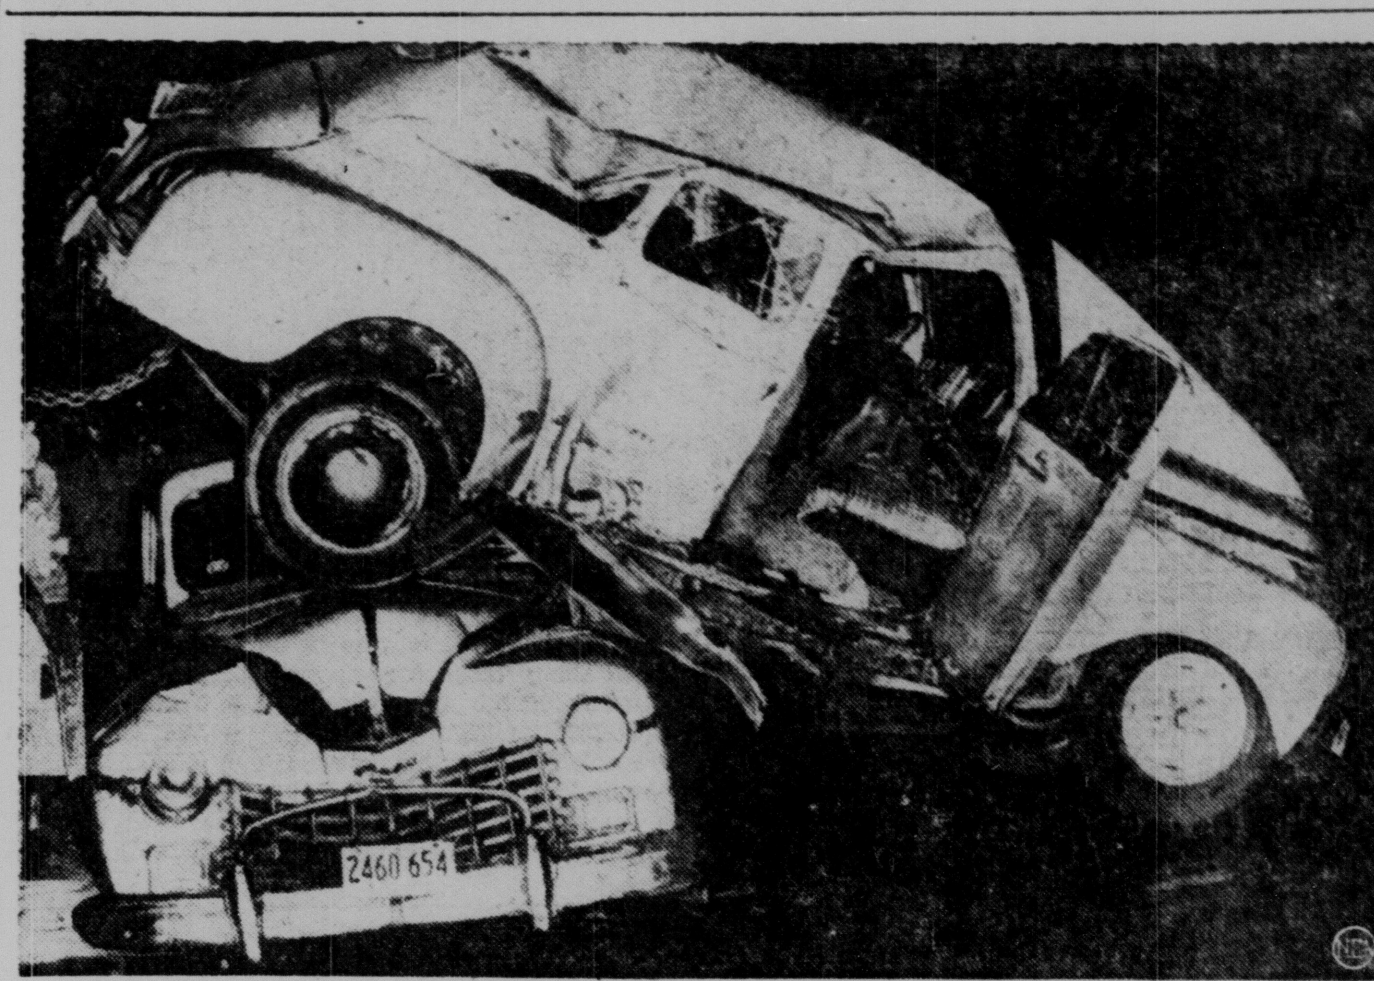

Lanigan said the long delay in formal presentation of the awards was not unusual.

Points For Rotation For GIs Behind Lines In Korea Boosted

TOKYO (AP)—Behind - the - lines troops in Korea will need two additional points for rotation home after Jan. 1.

Gen. Mark W. Clark's headquarters today gave lack of replacements from the U. S. as the reason.

There was no change in the rotation requirement of nine months service — 36 points—for soldiers at the front. Rear area troops will need 40 instead of 38 points.

Troops at the front get four rotation points a month. Those near the front get three and soldiers far from the front get two.

Soldiers in Japan whose families are with them get one point monthly. Others get 1½.

Clark, Far Eastern commander, and Washington have disagreed in recent months on the problem of adequate replacements. Pentagon pressure forced Clark on Oct. 22, to withdraw an order increasing the battle-line rotation requirement from 36 to 38 points.

There was no comment on Clark's latest order from the Defense Department or the Army.

Saturday the Army's February draft call was upped to 53,000 men — the highest quota since early in the Korean War.

Clark's headquarters said the new increase "is made necessary because of lack of receipt of sufficient replacements from the United States to continue rotation in January on the basis of 38 (points) and still maintain the combat efficiency of the Eighth Army and other Army units throughout the command."

It added that rotation requirements after January would depend upon replacements.

"The decision to retain the rotation criteria at 36 (points) for Zone A (front line) is in line with the previously announced policy of giving primary consideration to troops in the forward combat zone who are daily exposed to the greatest dangers and hardships," the statement added.

410 Deaths Predicted For New Year Holiday
CHICAGO (AP)—The National Safety Council today estimated that 410 Americans will die in traffic accidents during the four-day New Year holiday period.

The organization last week estimated that 590 would be killed in motor vehicle accidents in the four-day Christmas week end. The total in an Associated Press survey was 556, an all-time record.

The previous record was 555 in the four-day Christmas holiday of 1936. Accidental deaths in this year's Christmas holiday were 744 as compared to last year's record 789. Included were 82 persons killed in fires and 106 others who lost their lives in various types of accidents.

Real Estate In Salem Boosted To $31 Million

Tax Rates To Apply On New Valuation For All Of 1952

Columbiana County I. J. Vorn-dran announced today final figures show Salem's real estate for tax purposes has been raised to a valuation of $31,580,760 for an increase of $5,823,220.

Property holders were paying taxes on real estate valued at $25,757,540.

Due to the recent reappraisal, the Salem school district will now receive $35,261,230 compared to $28,579,391 which it now gets.

Real estate property in the county has been increased about $29 million over the $78 million appraisal in 1943.

Overall Valuation Shown

Auditor Vorn-dran also announced the total valuation on all taxable property in Columbiana County, including real estate, personal and utility taxes is now $163,891,460 compared to the old figure of $113,457,990.

Tax rates will apply to the new valuations for all of 1952 and notices will be sent to property owners about March 1, it was announced.

The reappraisal of real estate values was started in July of 1950 and completed at a cost to the county of about $120,000. The work was done by the Cole-Layer-Trumble Co. of Dayton.

Pool Fund Climbs To $37,700

2 Industrial Firms Give Large Donations

Two large contributions today boosted the Centennial Park Swimming Pool Fund to $37,700.

Both donations came from local industrial plants, whose officials requested anonymity.

One factory turned over a check for $4,500, the other concern giving $3,000.

Today's donations put the Swimming Pool Fund over the half-way mark toward the goal of $75,000 which has been set to insure construction of a municipal swimming pool at Centennial Park.

A balance of $37,300 remains to be raised and Kiwanis Club members, who are sponsoring the pool fund campaign, are hopeful that the additional money can be secured in time to start work by April 1 at the latest.

The $700 raised by Girl Scouts in their recent winter carnival is yet to be turned over to the pool fund, as well as proceeds from the Kiwanis Kapers.

A thermometer chart at the corner of East State St. and S. Lincoln Ave. is being maintained by the Kiwanis Club to keep the public posted on progress of the fund drive.

Today's sizeable pool fund contributions were the third from Salem factories. The first was made several weeks ago and amounted to $1,000.

The Kiwanis Club started the fund with the initial $1,500 contribution.

Chickens Talk To Each Other By Cluck, Squawk, Is Report

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Chickens talk, in a cluck-and-squawk code of remarkable meanings, two scientists reported today.

They can say, "Hawk coming," or in a different sound, "Dog or danger around." The baby chick says an equivalent of "Hey, mom, I'm lost!" and the hen can say, "Come here," or "Dinner's ready."

The study of chicken language even suggests a scientific method of chicken stealing—of which more in a moment.

The sound signals of chickens were analyzed by Dr. Nicholas Collias, zoologist now at Cornell University, and Prof. Martin Joos of the University of Wisconsin, in research at Wisconsin.

The chicken "talk" was recorded by an electronic machine, the spectrograph, which translates sounds into wavy lines on paper. The lines give an objective record of the frequencies and intensity.

Prof. Joos made the recordings and Dr. Collias made the interpretations, described today to the American Association for the Advancement of Science.

Ike's Legislative Program Studied

General To Meet With Taft, Bridges

NEW YORK (AP) — President-elect Eisenhower hopes to round out a preliminary draft of his legislative program at a conference today with Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio and other Senate Republican leaders.

The senators are those who will have a key role in how far the general's legislative program gets in Congress. Besides Taft, slated to be Senate majority leader, those scheduled to sit in at today's conference include:

Senators Styles Bridges of New Hampshire, prospective president pro tempore of the Senate—its presiding officer in the absence of the vice president; Eugene D. Millikin of Colorado, chairman of the Conference of All GOP Senators; and Leverett Saltonstall of Massachusetts and Milton R. Young, member of the Senate Republican Policy Committee.

18 with House Republican leaders the new administration's legislative program which the general will outline to Congress shortly after his inauguration Jan. 20.

Aides said much preliminary work already has been done on the program and that Eisenhower hopes the first stages can be completed at today's meeting. Additional conferences with congressional leaders are planned for study of the final draft.

Eisenhower announced yesterday that after his inauguration he will appoint Robert Cutler, president and director of the Old Colony Trust Company of Boston, as an administrative assistant to the president.

Cutler, 57 and a Republican, served as an adviser to Eisenhower during the election campaign.

As an administrative assistant, he will deal especially with the National Security Council, co-ordinating its work with that of other agencies and departments.

Eisenhower discussed international economic problems at a luncheon meeting yesterday with Paul G. Hoffman, former chief of the Marshall Plan foreign aid program and now director of the Ford Foundation; Milton Katz, former U. S. special representative in Europe and now associate director of the Ford Foundation; and John J. McCloy, former U. S. high commissioner to Germany. Cutler also attended.

Rep. Thurston B. Morton (R-Ky.) said last night in Louisville he had been asked by John Foster Dulles, Eisenhower's choice for secretary of state, to take a State Department post. He said he was undecided.

Morton did not seek re-election to the house in November.

It was reported at Cody, Wyo., last night that Mildred L. Simpson, Cody attorney, had decided to accept a post as an assistant secretary under Oregon Gov. Douglas McKay, Eisenhower's choice for secretary of the interior.

At left, Arthur is shown as he appeared four years ago, when he was stricken by Still's disease, a form of rheumatoid that is often fatal to children. Conventional therapy failing to aid him, Arthur became one of the first persons to receive the then newly discovered drug, cortisone. Today he is a healthy, happy youngster, more fortunate than many victims who have been crippled for life.

1953 Is No Infant

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—The cartoonists always picture the new year as a husky infant in diapers cheerfully shouldering the old year off the stage of time.

It is an inaccurate portrait and it is even more inaccurate than usual this year.

For 1953 arrives as no bubbling babe. He is better portrayed as a middle-aged man with money jingling in his pockets but with his thoughtful brow furrowed by the cares that wrinkled and bent his father before him. Individuals try to wipe the slate of their lives clean with the new year. In America they make resolutions to do better. In China—old China anyway—the natives always tried to pay off their debts by year's end.

(Editor's note: We could do that, too, if we were allowed to pay ours with old Chinese paper dollars.)

Around the world it is traditional to attempt to shrug off past woes and look forward to a fairer personal life. Nations would like to do that too. But unfortunately it isn't as easy for them. For governments march by a continuity of policy rarely broken or changed merely by the death of one year or the birth of another. Their obligations endure.

The American nation at this period of changing calendars stands on a peculiar shelf of history. It is like a mountain climber pausing momentarily on a ledge for breath.

On one side is a steep climb to the heights and wider view he seeks; on the other lies a gulf. It is a sobering time. There is much for the average American to celebrate and be humbly grateful for. There is also much on the uphill road ahead to make him take heed and plan his course with care. It is a time to be confident rather than cocksure, prayerful rather than perverse, self-reliant but not selfish.

Look down. How far we have climbed! How far there is to go! The big problem of 1952, as in the years before, is still unsolved—how to build the framework of a permanent world peace. The cynic says the very cantankerous nature of man himself prevents a solution, and always will, because it always has. The optimist says it can and must be done or the race of man will turn in blind destruction and sting itself to death with the new weapons available to it.

It would take a starry idealist indeed to believe that the year 1953 will see an ultimate curb put to such old foes as war, hunger, disease, greed and poverty. But it can see another step taken toward such goals.

The biggest need is for Americans to pull together in a unity greater than they have ever known before. The biggest temptation is for them to let down the pack that chafes them, to give up their mutual effort in the search for personal clashing pleasures.

The task for both government and individual is the same—to face with fortitude and courage old duties, fresh responsibilities, and new opportunities.

No, 1953 doesn't come to us as a rosy-cheeked child. He comes as a man, ready to do a man's work in a fear-filled world—and to win a man's reward.

Anastasias' Citizenship Is Probed

WASHINGTON (AP)—A congressional subcommittee today demanded from Atty. Gen. McGranery "all the circumstances" of the immigration and naturalization of the Anastasia brothers—Albert, Anthony, Joseph and Gerardo. All four are waterfront figures in New York.

Chairman Walter (D-Pa.) of a House judiciary subcommittee investigating immigration said in a statement he wrote McGranery that the four brothers originally entered the U. S. illegally by jumping ship and "have subsequently, through various procedures, obtained a readjustment of their immigration status to that of permanent residents."

Albert Anastasia has often been described as a major figure in Murder, Inc., reputedly a kill-for-pay mob which operated in Brooklyn in the 1930s.

He refused to answer many questions when he was questioned recently by the New York Crime Commission during its investigation of the New York waterfront.

"What surprises this committee (the House group)," Walter wrote McGranery, "is the fact that according to information now available, all four of them (the Anastasias) had extensive criminal records before they were admitted for permanent residence and had allegedly committed certain crimes between the time of their admission and their naturalization."

Fish Believed Extinct Caught In Atlantic

DURBAN, South Africa (AP)—A South African fish expert has announced "one of the most important discoveries made in science"—a good specimen of a type of fish that scientists once believed had died out at least 50 million years ago.

Prof. J. B. Smith, a noted ichthyologist, arrived here last night by plane from a tiny islet in the French-owned Camero group between Madagascar and the East African mainland with a carefully guarded crate which he said contained a coelacanth. He had made a 3,000-mile dash to collect the fish—caught more than a week ago by an African fisherman—before it decomposed.

The coelacanths—which bear the scientific name of latimeria chalumnae—were the first family of bony fish. They are believed to have evolved between 200 and 350 million years ago and until recently were known to man only by fossils.

Earlier fish had skeletons composed of something like cartilage, as sharks do today. The coelacanths are believed to have been an important link in the evolution of sea vertebrates (creatures having a bony structure) into land vertebrates—including man.

The coelacanth specimen is a five-foot, blueish-colored creature.

19 Ex-Nazi Troopers To Go On Trial For Sack Of French Town

PARIS (AP)—Nineteen former Nazi SS (Elite Guard) troopers go on trial before a military tribunal at Bordeaux next month, accused of responsibility for the sack of the village of Oradours-sur-Glane in 1944 and the murder of 682 inhabitants. Only six citizens of the tiny farming community survived the massacre.

Oradour's ordeal began at 1:30 p. m. on Saturday, June 10, 1944—two years to the day after the Germans, in a similar fit of anger, leveled the Czech village of Lidice, shot all its men, sent all its women to concentration camps and scattered the children among German families.

On that awful Saturday afternoon in 1944, Der Fuehrer Regiment of Das Reich SS Division rounded up all the villagers of Oradour in the market square. Maj. Dickman, the German commander, accused the mayor of sheltering resistance fighters and hiding arms. The mayor denied it. The Germans searched and found nothing.

All the women and children were locked in the village church. Some of the men were jammed into barns, others were guarded in the square. At 3:30 there was burst of machinegun fire and the massacre was on. Inside the church the women and children could hear the firing outside. Then the Germans entered and in a wild chase among the pews and before the altar the troopers shot and clubbed the women and children to death. Then they threw incendiary grenades into the church to set it afire.

One woman, shot five times, survived. Five other residents were away from Oradour that day. Except for these, all were slaughtered. Whole families were wiped out: 18 Thomases, 15 Bardets, nine Semons, seven Pontarauts, seven Merciers. The village was ruined: 123 homes burned, 205 barns burned, corpses everywhere, in the streets, the wells, the bakeries.

Who is guilty? In eight years of investigations French authorities have identified 65 men they believe to be most responsible. Only 19 of these survive or can be found. Those to go on trial at Bordeaux Jan. 12 included a dozen Frenchmen from Alsace who claim they were forced into the German Army against their will.

Thus the trial will be a torment to the conscience of France. Once again the question of the "Malgré-nous" (in spite of ourselves) will be before the public. The Association of Malgre-Nous in Alsace is sending lawyers to defend the 12. All the defendants were extremely young at the time of the massacre—15 under 20 and five under 17. The man perhaps most directly responsible—Maj. Dickman—was killed a few days later while fighting the American invaders in Normandy.

Draft-Dodger To Be Deported

Wealthy Financier Sought For Arrest

NEW YORK (AP) — Draft-dodging financier Serge M. Rubinstein, former "boy wonder of Wall Street" who first was exposed to financiers at the czar's court in old Russia, must surrender today for deportation from the United States.

If he fails to show up by 4 p.m., Eastern Standard Time, he stands to forfeit the $1,000 bond in which he is now free.

The deadline was set yesterday in Washington by Atty. Gen. James P. McGranery, who ordered the 44-year-old Rubinstein taken into custody on a deportation order issued last February. It is based on a 1947 conviction of draft dodging.

Rubinstein could not be located by newsmen as McGranery acted. A butler at the Russian-born financier's Fifth Avenue home here said last night he was not home, and not expected and that other members of the family were not available for comment.

In Hollywood, Milton Golden, an attorney for Rubinstein, said his client had been in nearby Beverly Hills until last Friday but should be back in New York by now.

Golden also asserted that Rubinstein would appeal McGranery's order to the Supreme Court "if necessary." Rubinstein has "done no more than many others," the attorney said, and he "has paid his debt to society and conducted himself as a good citizen."

Rubinstein has been fighting deportation from the United States for nearly 10 years. A 1943 deportation order, on charges that he entered the U. S. on a Portuguese passport obtained through fraud, was reversed by the Board of Immigration Appeals.

On the current deportation order, he has exhausted all his appeals within the immigration service and Justice Department. He still can go to the courts, however.

He has served a 2½-year federal sentence for draft dodging, imposed in 1947. A few years ago he was tried and acquitted in Federal Court in New York on charges of violating the Securities and Exchange Act.

Chickens

or thirsty or hurt. The frequency or timing of the chirps is different. The brood hen clucks as she walks, summoning her chicks to follow her, Dr. Collias said. She gives about two clucks per second. When the hen discovers food, she clucks rapidly, about four clucks a second, to call her chicks to join the feast.

At night, when she roosts, she gives a purring sound, lasting about 1½ seconds, to bring all chicks under her wing. If a hawk appears, chickens have an alarm scream, loud and raucous, that sends chicks running to shelter.

But if it's danger from the ground, a dog or a man, the warning is loud, repeated calls of a bit different frequency. The hen also seems to give an alerting call, low and rather brief and harsh, that makes chicks stop and freeze, Dr. Collias said. This is a rapidly pulsed call.

As tests of the meaning of the various calls, the experimenters used recordings of artificial sounds that showed the same spectrograph lines as did different signal calls of real chickens.

Taping a pencil on a wooden table or cardboard box was like the "come here" clucking call, and attracted young chicks.

And that is your tip on how to proceed with some scientific chicken stealing.

geons knew she was then living only from day to day.

"But," the doctor added "the will, determination and courage of Mrs. Decelle prevailed."

The woman's 28-year-old husband Morton, an electrical mechanic, said that although his wife knew she was suffering from cancer and all hope had been given up for saving her life, she appeared to be happy on her last stay at home.

Doctors said that although the newborn child appears "strong and vigorous," tests are being made to determine if he suffered any ill-effects from his mother's cancerous condition.

Mrs. Decelle was found to be suffering from cancer about two months ago when she was six months pregnant.

The four other Decelle children are George, 6; Mary Susan, 5; Judith Lynn, 3½; and Nancy Jean, 1.

Also at the Decelle home for Christmas were Mrs. Decelle's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Crowder of Mayodan N. C. and her sister and brother-in-law Mr. and Mrs. Earl Stewart of Brantford Conn.

Decelle said he met his wife while serving in the Army. They were married in Greensboro, N. C., June, 1945.

Phillipine Plane Lost With 10 Persons Aboard

Two of the passengers were identified as Marshall Nunn of San Francisco and Mary Ireton, believed to live in a small town near Cincinnati. Both are employees of the United States Information service in Manila.

The twin-engined plane left Laoag in Illocos Norte Province this morning for Aparri, about 100 miles away.

which says no one has to testify against himself in a criminal case.

The jury failed to indict anyone, the committee was told, but the jurors became "indignant" and, they testified, voted unanimously to report the conditions they found "so the U. S. public would be startled out of its lethargy."

18 Risks Faced
The presentation filed by the jury said "an overwhelmingly large group of disloyal U. S. citizens" had infiltrated the U. S. staff.

Since then, 18 have been fired as security risks.

Kelly, the jury foreman, said that Cohn, a special assistant U. S. attorney, and Lane, the regular U. S. attorney, co-operated with the jury's probe. But on Dec. 2, when the jury was preparing to make its report to the court, Kelly testified, an effort was made to block it. He said he was told Atty. Gen. McGranery sought a delay.

There was no comment from McGranery.

Kelly said he was informed by Cohn that "Acheson didn't want the presentment made" because it recommended that a new jury be set up to continue the investigation of Red infiltration of the U. N.

Another juror, Zimmerman, said he was convinced "the State Department had a big stake in this investigation....It wanted to hush it up because we weren't very complimentary to the State Department."

Keating told newsmen he will recommend to Herbert Brownell Jr., who will be attorney general in the Eisenhower administration, that a new investigation be launched in New York.

"I am just as incensed as the jurors were over this situation," Keating said.

Keating said the committee may call Acheson to the witness stand tomorrow.

should, exercise over them their authority; as they behold so many of their churches destined to profane uses or left in squalid abandonment," the Pope's letter declared.

The Pontiff also mentioned persecutions in Romania and the Soviet Ukraine which he said were directed both against the faithful of the Oriental Rite and those of the Latin Rite.

"If in past centuries some particular dogma of Catholic doctrine was impugned, today, on the contrary, as you well see, the (Communist government authorities) rashly go even further. They seek to banish from public life, from the domestic scene, from universities, from schools, and from the life of all populations, the sacred rites, institutions and laws, indeed all that is divine or has relation to divinity as if they were dealing with matters of mythology and evil omen."

North Ohio Ordnance Making Sets Record

CLEVELAND (AP)—Northern Ohio industry has produced 840 million dollars worth of ordnance material for the armed field forces in 1952, compared with 589 millions worth in the war year of 1944.

This was reported today by Lt. Col. B. A. Saholsky, deputy district chief of the Cleveland ordnance district.

His annual report showed the district inspected and shipped about 400,000 tons of tanks, jeeps, trucks, shells, artillery pieces, trailers, automotive spare parts and other items.

On a dollar basis, this was double the amount shipped last year. On a tonnage basis, it was four times last year's shipments, as heavier items reached the end of the production line.

In the coming year, said the report, the district will be engaged in a "stretch out" program, to stay within congressional appropriations and to allow the field forces more time for battle testing of equipment.

Because of the heavy load of contracts still pending, ordnance shipments have not yet reached their peak.

At the beginning of 1952 the district had 2,094 contracts under its administration, worth $1,375,000. At the end of the year there were 3,700 contracts worth $2,086,000,000.

rubber, steel automotive parts, and coal are the backbone of the nation's strength, and coupled with our expanding atomic energy program make crystal-clear the reason for the Communists' concern with Ohio.

"The presence of Communist Party members in defense plants in Ohio poses a real and ever-increasing danger to national security. This danger is heightened by certain Communist-dominated unions who provide an open door into defense industry for these willful agents of a foreign power."

Labeled by the commission as "fronts" for the Communist party were: Ohio Bill of Rights Conference; Americans Committee for Protection of Foreign Born; Ohio Freedom of the Press Association; Ohio Labor Council for Peace; Defense Committee for Victims of the Ohio Un-American Activities Committee; Labor Youth League (LYL) and the International Workers Order.

The commission said it learned there are 200 Communists in Central Ohio and 1,100 in Northern Ohio with 700 of these in the Cleveland area.

Can Government Be Non-Political?

Appointment of a non-political advisory board for agriculture is the newest sign of a significant intention on the part of Dwight Eisenhower.

The president-elect intends to do his job with a minimum of help from politicians. He expects, in turn, to have a minimum of interference.

He does not like politicians. He was skittish about making himself available for a presidential nomination until assured he would be drafted by the "people," not by politicians.

He interpreted his election as a popular reaction from an overdose of partisan politics under the Roosevelt and Truman administrations.

He has revealed by his cabinet appointments and by other actions since the election that he does not regard himself as a party choice for the presidency) that he regards himself as a bipartisan choice insofar as he was supported by voters of both parties, including millions in the strong Democratic southern states.

This is the background for a doubt which will be voiced by politicians with a strong sense of vested right in the operation of government.

Political feelings are being hurt by procedures which violate political custom. It is painfully obvious to the politicians in federal government that businessmen and specialists are the men of the hour in Washington.

It is going to be as hard for politicians to bear as the discovery in the early years of the New Deal that Washington had been captured by Frankfurter's "happy hot dogs."

Eventually, the politicians wore out the interlopers, but not until they had proved what to politicians needs no proving—that government is basically political and therefore cannot be operated successfully by non-politicians.

Perhaps the businessmen and the specialists will be better at this than the happy hot dogs proved to be. That will require proving. The newest infiltration of outsiders will learn that Washington, like China, has a strange way of conquering its conquerors.

Talking To Death

Perhaps the surest sign of a full grasp of representative democracy is tolerance of filibustering in the U.S. Senate.

It is impossible to understand why filibustering is excusable until it has been understood that the secret of representative democracy is the preservation of minority rights.

This keeps the government process from doing irreparable damage to those who cannot protect themselves by a majority vote. It keeps the majority from trampling the rights of minorities who have been defeated.

In the next few weeks there will be the usual big talk about outlawing Senate filibusters. It will come from the kind of senators typified by Hubert Humphrey, the breathless and over-eager agitator from Minnesota.

Humphrey would like to muzzle southern Democrats who insist that compulsory FEPC laws would violate the traditions and feelings of their states. When last seen in operation, Humphrey was trying to throw these same Democrats out of their own party during their party convention.

If anyone in this country is going to talk anything to death, it will be Hubert Humphrey, who respects no rights except his self-bestowed right to get on with left-wing revolution.

Some Unmentionables

Dwight Eisenhower and Winston Churchill, old acquaintances, will have many things to talk about when they meet.

Some of the vital ones cannot be mentioned, for an obvious reason. They won't bear discussion.

Mr. Churchill will not be able to say anything about a feeling in Great Britain that Americans have a tendency to rush in where angels fear to tread. It would not be tactful for him to tell the President-elect that so many Britons regard Americans as fools who must and will learn to dread the fire.

Eisenhower, on the other hand, will not be able to tell Her Majesty's prime minister that many Americans feel the British lion has become so debilitated with poverty-sharing and international reverses that the battered and tattered beast no longer can summon boldness to the vital task of survival.

It simply would not be tactful for Eisenhower to point out under the circumstances that it is customary for those who cannot pay the piper to quit calling the tune. That would hurt Churchill's feelings. He has been accustomed to call the tune throughout a long lifetime.

It is necessary for Eisenhower and Churchill to meet. It would be desirable if they, together with other Chiefs of State, who will be making momentous decisions in the days ahead, could meet with Russia's Stalin. There would be many things which could not be mentioned in that meeting, too. But some could be mentioned.

Diplomacy is personal. There is no possibility of understanding between chiefs of state who do not meet face to face occasionally.

Power Control

By RAYMOND MOLEY

Practical Common Sense Is Needed

It may be that since election some socialistic bureaucrats have seen the light, but it is more likely that they have felt the heat.

The foregoing quip is borrowed from Henry Ashurst, once senator from Arizona. The adaptation is prompted by a proposal recently made in Seattle by Dr. Paul J. Raver, chief of the great Bonneville Power Administration.

Dr. Raver, it should be explained, has long been an ardent though somewhat diplomatic advocate of the expansion of public versus private power.

His job would have implied that, although nominally private and public electric power agencies are all supposed to find common ground in the Bonneville setup. But now Dr. Raver has proposed something that indicates that the advocates of the nationalization of power production may be willing to grant some, at least, of the contentions of private enterprise.

He is quoted as saying: "I suggest that we take power completely out of the hands of the federal government and place it in the hands of a regional board, either elected or appointed by the governors of the states concerned."

This board, Raver suggests, should have the job of financing and building power dams.

The money for the construction would be raised by bonds sold in the open market.

This proposal was so promising that Douglas McKay, secretary of the interior designate was moved to comment that this idea was "on the right track," and that "I am in favor of any good plan to get the government out of the power business."

McKay, while acknowledging the fact that a large part of the power business is being carried on in the Northwest by local public power agencies, nevertheless is firmly against the socialistic plans and projects promoted by the Interior Department for nearly 20 years. The Raver statement may mean a break in the long struggle for survival by the private power companies of the Northwest.

The Raver idea is far from new. Some such solution has been in the air for a long time. As long ago as 1926, Herbert Hoover, then secretary of commerce, proposed in a notable speech in Seattle the development of the Columbia River Basin by cooperative action on a regional basis.

Again and again it has been pointed out that if, as the advocates of these power dams say, such projects are truly self-liquidating, the place for the test is the open bond market, not in drives for congressional appropriations. That point was made very forcibly by Gov. Driscoll of New Jersey at the Governor's Conference in 1950.

But the zeal of the vast bureaucracy of the Interior Department, backed for 20 years by Presidents Roosevelt and Truman, has admitted no compromise. The gospel according to these two Presidents, Secretaries Ickes and Chapman, and all the lesser figures in the hierarchy, has been this: private power companies are evil and should be destroyed. Government must own and run the electric industry, and "government" means federal government.

Perhaps we are approaching the point where this issue can be lifted from the darkness of prejudice and exposed to the light of practical common sense.

Blest Be The Tie

By TRUMAN TWILL

There was no place on the patented tie rack for the two Christmas ties so yesterday we went through the ordeal of a tie retirement.

This happens once a year and is always painful. Eventually, even the best of ties must go, and the worst must go on short notice.

Our retirement system is similar to that for retiring top-flight executives in private enterprise. We do not throw the rejects directly into the wastebasket but shift them to a place of obscurity from which they can be rescued if necessary.

It's almost never necessary. We have not bought a tie for at least 15 years, but we always have more ties than can be used to any advantage, not counting the ones put into retirement without being worn at all.

These are the impossible gaudy numbers which are manufactured for sale to people with no taste, or at least no perception. Since these comprise a majority of all the people who buy neckties, there is never any lack of new ties going into retirement.

But most of the ties in the retirement box are sound and faithful old companions showing the ravages of time and events. Some have faded. Some have become threadbare. Some have come home from the cleaners with their patterns and colors blurred.

When we finished this year's arrangement, we had 32 ties on the rack in usable condition and many more than that in the box. Only one was rescued from the box this year—a brown with a gray-putty pattern which can still hold its own with the best of the newer models in the brown division.

Only one was put into the wastebasket—a summer-type tie foisted on us years ago by a determined female who had got it into her head that we were a summer-type guy, which we never had been and never could be. We always regarded that tie as an affront to our principles.

Everything will be shipshape until next Christmas with a birthday and Father's Day still to come. We could wear a different tie every day for a month, with a few to spare, which is by no means an unusual number of ties for an ordinary man to possess.

After all, there are ties in the retirement box and a few on the active-duty rack which are upward of 20 years old. In the ordinary course of events, a man with a family and friends and relatives will get at least half a dozen ties a year, plus whatever ties he may buy for himself. In a lifetime, the things multiply into the hundreds, yet are worn only one at a time and will last indefinitely.

Some of those dillies stuffed into the retirement box without ever being worn at all should last for a century. They're vigorous enough.

The Doctor Answers

Today's first question is one which the men don't have to worry about.

Q—A group of us high school girls are been debating about shaving our legs. We have been told that it would make the hair grow faster and coarser. Is this true?—M. H.

A—Shaving the legs will perhaps not make the hair grow faster, but it will make it come in thicker and coarser. This concession to vanity should be postponed as long as possible.

Q—Please tell me what thiamine hydrochloride is generally prescribed for? Would taking 100 milligrams daily be harmful to a woman of 45?—M. M.

A—Thiamine is a complicated chemical compound, also known as vitamin B-1. Its absence from the diet causes a citamin-deficiency disease known as beri-beri. It is given for various kinds of neuritis and a great many other things in which the doctor suspects a deficiency of this vitamin in the natural diet. It would not be likely to harm a woman of 45.

Q—Some time ago I read an article which said that a baby nurses from its own breast while inside the mother's womb. Is this true?—Mrs. E. S.

A—It is not true. The nourishment of an unborn baby is obtained from the mother's blood stream.

A—Is it true that a person with high blood pressure cannot be fitted with glasses?—Reader.

A—Glasses can be fitted for a person with high blood pressure to correct the same defects of vision—such as astigmatism or near sightedness—which might be present in another person. But glasses cannot be expected to correct some of the complications of high blood pressure which may occur in the deeper portions of the eye.

Q—Could a constant roaring in the head be an indication of a tumor of the brain?—R. B. C.

A—It could be, but it is much more likely to reflect some disorder of the internal portion of the ear, or high blood pressure, than a brain tumor.

Jose Ferrer On Robeson

By GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY

Paul Robeson is an artist of merit who has become so absorbed by Soviet Russia that he no longer can be regarded as American in any other category but nominal citizenship.

He is at this moment the most vehement protagonist of Soviet Russia in this country and his services have been acknowledged by Joe Stalin.

Indignation against Robeson is usually expressed by patriotic Americans who have never been tempted by so-called left-wingism. Yet, no one has ever denounced Paul Robeson with such accurate indignation of his time and Joe Ferrer, actor, who has also been attacked for some of his associations.

FERRER'S LANGUAGE is important because he expresses the problem of the artist who insists on freedom of expression but rejects treason. This is what Ferrer said about Robeson:

"Any American who accepts an award from the Soviet Union today does a tremendous disservice, not only to his country, but to the cause of peace throughout the world. It seems to me to be very clear that up to now the Soviet Union has discredited itself as to believability of intention and honesty of purpose."

"I have always felt deeply about the minority groups and their problems. In the case of Paul Robeson his action in accepting Stalin's so-called 'peace prize' seems to me to be particularly reprehensible because he is doing almost irreparable harm to his own race, and a grave injury to the cause of all Negroes. He pretends to be their spokesman, and he is not. I do not believe that Paul Robeson has anything fundamentally in common with Ralph Bunche, Marian Anderson, Joe Louis, Dorothy Maynor, Jackie Robinson, and other Negroes who are winning the uphill battle for Negro rights. "Nor does he have very much in common with the Negro soldiers in Korea, who are helping to fight the battle for freedom against Communist aggression and dictatorship."

"Anyone who is in the arts must have freedom of expression. As an artist I insist on this privilege for myself and for all others. In its attempts to control artistic and creative expression, Communism is indistinguishable from Fascism or any other form of dictatorship. This is all the more reason to deplore the course which Paul Robeson has chosen."

THE ACKNOWLEDGMENT of the undeniable truth that "Communism is indistinguishable from Fascism" is emotionally difficult for many of those who in the heyday of Hitlerism were willing to accept Stalin as an alternative.

Their error was that there really is no alternative to evil. It is impossible to say that Stalin is less a devil than Hitler, for both were bred by the same Hegelian sire and only differed in the method of achieving an identical end.

Even in the matter of anti-Semitism, Stalin reaches the same position as Hitler did and for the same ends, namely, that any independence of thought or action is repugnant to him.

To too few Negroes who visit his country, Stalin can well present a facade of equality because he has no Negro population in his country, but he does have Jews in sufficient number to require him to reach a conclusion about them and his conclusion is the same as Hitler's was.

JOSE FERRER, therefore, has hit the nail on the head when he establishes the truth that when Robeson serves Stalin, he betrays not only the United States but the Negroes as well. It is a too usual, even though unjust, human trait to generalize from the particular.

A handful of Negroes are Communists, therefore the illogical—and logic is perhaps the most difficult and unused of mental exercises—conclude that all, or most, or a great many Negroes are Communists.

Robeson, in particular, stands out like a sore thumb because he is so prominent and active and such a great artist. When he sings "Ole Man River" or "Water Boy," one almost forgets that he is a servant of Stalin's power. It is a pity because Robeson might have been of great service to his race and to this country. Instead, he is abhorred by most Americans and should be.

Jose Ferrer has served his country well by making the issue clear-cut and understandable. It is not the Negro in Robeson that brings him opprobrium in his native land; it is his treachery to its ideals and institutions.

Up Ontario Way

By JERRY KLEIN

The Canadian Board of Geographic Names has the "Help Wanted" sign out for finding new names of Ontario's 19 beaver lakes, 22 trout lakes and 24 clear lakes.

It's been dreaming up quite a few new names itself for Ontario lakes. Before the board went to work, you see, the province had 84 clear lakes, 89 beaver lakes and 97 trout lakes!

The confusion was begun by the Indians and early settlers. With 300 lakes in Ontario, they couldn't much be blamed for some duplication in naming them. The Geographic Board now has the job of reducing the duplication, as well as simplifying some of the old tongue-twisters.

Take the name given to one little place, for instance. It used to be called Megees-ance-en-dat-sou-wego-gun. Now it's been re-christened Meggisans.

Some Canadian place names are queer, but colorful, because it was the custom for a place to be named for whatever emotion the locale raised in the one doing the naming. Thus, Newfoundland has a Happy Adventure, a Heart's Delight, a Fortune, and a Sweet Bay. Other places were disappointing, so they became Unfortunate Bay, Misery Point, Empty Basket, and Bare Need.

Another Newfoundland village which can be reached only by a boat which first has to push its way through a narrow channel is named, directly enough, Pushthrough. Two other villages were difficult to get into, so they were appropriately called Big Paradise and Little Paradise. However, it was very easy to reach Hell's Mouth.

Near Newfoundland, the residents of another Canadian town couldn't decide to name their community Jamestown, after a local industrialist, or Wawa, the Indian name for a near-by lake. So they compromised: the place is called both.

On the outskirts of town, about 100 yards apart, stand two signs. One says "Welcome to Wawa,"

The other says, "Jamestown Welcomes You." The names of local businesses include either Jamestown or Wawa—and frequently both.

Solutions to a name problems haven't always been so simple in the United States. A community in Ohio, for instance, had a hard time getting its name.

First, it wanted to be called Glennville, but the federal government refused that name because another near-by community already had it. Then it asked to be called Glendale, but that name also was taken.

The residents called a meeting at which several other names were debated, but they could reach no agreement. Finally, one man stood up and said it would surely be a relief to get the pesty thing settled.

"Relief!" that had a ring to it, the man's neighbors decided. So they called their town Relief. It has about 100 residents—all self-supporting.

Portland, Ore., had no such troubles. Portland got its name on the simple flip of a coin.

Two New Englanders owned the land which formed the original site of the city. They flipped a penny to see which of their home towns—Boston, Mass., or Portland, Me.—the new city would be named after. Portland won the toss.

Incidentally, there's an isolated little town in New Hampshire called Success. It's on a mountain top and difficult to reach. In fact, local residents warn you that "There's no easy road to Success."

Radio and video will go through the annual motions of applying a code to cut down crime and horror telecasts into the homes of America. Owen Lattimore will declare his innocence.

A couple will win $5,670 on a Groucho Marx program by giving the correct answer to "What was the first name of a famous patriot whose last name was Revere and who rode a horse from Boston to Lexington?" It will be announced that chlorophyll has been added to a breakfast cereal and found to extend the life of tablespoons and eliminate the smell of printing ink from bostops.

July.—Russia will exorcise the free world and baseball.

August.—There will be talk of deporting Anastasia and Costello.

September.—See July and August.

October.—Same as August.

Russia will denounce football, ice hockey, the free world, Senator Wiley and Christmas. A way will be found to put chlorophyll into pipe tobacco, preserving pipstems and giving to tobacco fumes the scent of Chanel No. 5. There will be talk of deporting Anastasia and clearing the New York waterfront of mobsters.

There they ride . . .

They smile for form

(It's far from warm)

They chat, these two,

As walrus do.

Broad grins they make . . .

The act's a fake;

Their smiles and words

Are for the birds.

Mike and Buff have one of the most interesting and entertaining programs on video, so their time has been cut 15 minutes!!! Agnes DeMille is a genius of the ballet, but her recent "Rodeo" on the Omnibus hour may set Texas back 50 years . . . No such cowhands have ever been encountered in truth or fiction . . . When Hamlet is presented on the video we suggest the following appropriate sponsors during certain passages: "O, that this too, too solid flesh would melt, thaw and dissolve itself into a dew." ((Any salt-free bread)) . . . "Indeed, indeed, sirs, but this troubles me. Hold you the watch tonight." (Any watch manufacturer) . . . "Alexander returneth into dust; the dust into earth; of earth we make loam; and of that loam whereto he was converted, might they not stop a beer barrel?" (Any brewery) . . . "Now cracks a noble heart, goodnight sweet prince, and flights of angels sing thee to thy rest." (Any up-to-date funeral home) . . . You can't fool us, Clifton Webb; you ain't John Philip Sousa, you're John Sousa Belvedere . . . Willys Overland will sponsor the American telecast of the British coronation, but we think an auto will have a tough time against the competition from all those eight-horse coaches.

GI Party Entertains Legion Memorial Group And Guests

Saturday was a festive evening for members of the Memorial Group of Charles H. Carey Post, American Legion, who entertained their wives and other guests at a GI dinner party in the post home.

After the dinner Art White and his five-piece orchestra played for dancing until 1 a.m. Legionnaires and their friends were included among the dancing guests.

On the dinner guest list were

Mrs. William Needham, president of the post auxiliary, and Ralph Templeton of Yellow Springs, past district commander of the Third District, American Legion.

Mr. Templeton spoke briefly as the 46 dinner guests were seated about the tables. Places of the women were marked with pompon corsages.

Simon Peer and Philip Weidenhoff were in charge of the dining room and chief cook in the kitchen was Arnold Pops, assisted by his wife, Mary. Memorial Commander John Herman was general chairman.

Another gala party planned by the Legionnaires is the New Year's Eve dance Wednesday night from 10 to 2, with Bill Schuller and his orchestra playing for dancing in the post home.

The party will conclude with breakfast arranged by Mr. Pops. Friends and guests are invited to the affair planned by Dr. Richard McConnell and Mr. Herman.

On the new year agenda for the Legionnaires is their next meeting Jan. 5 and County Council session in East Palestine.

As commander of the County Council, Mr. Herman will start inspection of all posts in the district, with inspection of East Liverpool post set for Jan. 5.

Hydrogen Explosive Device May Be Made Into Weapon

By ELTON C. FAY

WASHINGTON (AP)—Nuclear scientists and ordnance designers are trying now to fashion an actual and practical weapon out of a hydrogen explosive device.

What blew up with an unprecedented bang at Eniwetok Proving Grounds a few weeks ago may have been the world's first big blast from the fusion process of atomic science. But there are reasons to believe it wasn't any trans- portable and handily packaged gadget that could be loaded into and dropped through an airplane bomb bay.

There is, in the lexicon of atomic weapons, a distinct difference between a device (the tool of experimenters) and a bomb (the finished product for use by an armed force).

The interval between the first experimental burst from a gadget mounted on top of a steel tower and production of an ordnance-perfected bomb may be substantially longer this time than in the instance of the original atomic bomb.

On July 16, 1945, the scientists and military men of the then-secret "Manhattan Project" produced the first atomic explosion from the top of a tower at Alamogordo, N. M. in less than a month. A single atomic bomb was dropped from a specially fitted bomb bay of a B-29 Superfortress, exploding above the Japanese City of Hiroshima.

That was the world's first look at the atomic bomb. But the atomic era had dawned nearly three years earlier, in December, 1942, ten years ago this month, when scientists engineered the first successful atomic chain reaction.

As intricate as that old Model T bomb and its trigger was, it didn't require the space, weight or still more complex mechanisms needed for hydrogen explosion. Among other things, a hydrogen explosive device must contain a really deep freeze refrigerator to maintain control of the process until the instant of burst. The weight and bulk of the assembled test gadget must be considered imposing.

There is the possibility that the weapons makers may decide it is not necessary to bring the H-bomb to ordinary bomb bay size. They might just build one into a heavy bomber, equip the plane with remote controls for guidance from a "mother" plane and use the plane-bomb combination as a form of guided missile. The expense of the plane would be fractional to the expense of the bomb.

Nuclear physicists, abroad as well as in the United States, have known the theory of producing an explosion by fusing, not fissioning, the heavy weight hydrogen atoms almost as long as they have been aware of the standard fission process of the A-bomb.

However, they couldn't produce the fusion without a flash of heat measuring millions of degrees and occurring literally within the twinkling of an eye, something in the order of a millionth of a second.

The A-bomb, when it came, was the answer. In the chain reaction occurring when atoms are split, the total weight of two atoms of uranium origin created by the fission is slightly less than before the process. What is left, what no longer can be weighed because of this disappearance of some weight, is pure energy, the transmutation of mass to energy. One of the products of this process—in addition to a terrific explosion, brilliant light and radiation—is heat. Scientists guess that at the heart of the A-bomb in the split-second of explosion the temperature may be something in excess of 20 million degrees.

In this unearthly heat and pressure is the key to producing the melting or fusion of two hydrogen atoms—one deuterium, one tritium—to produce the element for energy and explosion.

The business of producing the ingredients for nuclear fission or fusion weapons is extremely expensive.

The government has never stated officially the cost of standard atomic bombs. The original yardstick of two billion dollars for the first atomic bomb figured in the cost of development, building the big plants to process uranium ore and other factors.

Speculation that a hydrogen bomb could be "a thousand times" more powerful than an A-bomb has produced argument about the need for such super-size explosions. Because thinking presently is oriented to the possibility of war with Russia, the bombs are measured by some in relation to the size of targets in Russia and in the United States.

One school of thought holds that in an H-bomb war, Russia would have the advantage because there are many more and bigger cities in the United States than in Russia.

The coldly practical exponent of strategic warfare doesn't buy this idea. He doesn't think cities, as such, are logical targets. He wants (and this is the basis for the theory of retaliatory bombing of Russia if she starts war) to hit and destroy the enemy's war-making sources. He contends those sources are airfields from which long-range bombing attacks could be launched against the United States manufacturing complexes dispersed over perhaps a hundred square miles of countryside; large and widely dispersed parking areas for bombers or fighters or tanks.

These are targets too big even for the atomic bomb. It would take several atomic bombs to destroy factories scattered over a hundred-square mile area. A single H-bomb could do the same job.

How many atomic bombs do the United States and Russia now have?

The official secrecy about the total of U. S. bombs is as deep as that of the Kremlin about Soviet weapons.

Cleveland Composer Dies Of Cancer

CLEVELAND (AP)—Beryl Rubinstein, 54, director of the Cleveland Institute of Music and a pianist and composer, died Monday of a lung cancer.

He had been a soloist on programs presented by symphony orchestras in New York, San Francisco, Philadelphia, Detroit, London and Cleveland.

His opera, "The Sleeping Beauty," in 1950 won the David Bismarck Medal awarded by the American Opera Society of Chicago. It was performed in 1938 by the Juilliard School of Music and the Juilliard Orchestra at New York.

Lausche Asked To Rule On Georgia Escapee

CLEVELAND (AP)—Gov. Frank J. Lausche was asked today to rule on Curtis Smith, 24, who is resisting efforts to have him returned to a Georgia Prison Camp.

Common Pleas Judge Harry A. Hanna held Monday he had no authority to free the Canton, O., ex-Marine.

Previously, the governor said Georgia's requisition papers contained incorrect information and refused to issue a warrant for Smith's arrest. The papers since have been amended.

Smith escaped last Aug. 2 from a Coffee, Ga., prison camp where he had been sent to serve a 5-to-7-year term for holding up a grocery store.

He admitted the robbery, but said he failed to get a "break" in the Georgia courts.

The Supreme Court has held that courts in one state cannot sit in judgment over court rulings or prison systems in other states.

Closer Ties Of U.S., Canadian Solons Sought

OTTAWA (AP)—A move is under way to encourage closer personal relations among members of the Canadian Parliament and the United States Congress.

Sen. Wishart Robertson, government leader in the Senate and Minister without portfolio in the federal Cabinet, said in an interview that in launching this drive he is acting simply as a private individual and not as a member of the government.

His aim is to arrange for frequent or at least annual exchange visits for members of Parliament and members of Congress.

He plans to get in touch with members of Parliament individually and to correspond with acquaintances in Congress.

"It is not good enough for our Cabinet ministers to be on a first-name basis with their opposite numbers in the United States," said Sen. Robertson. "Under the American system of government, it is possible for Congress to overrule the Cabinet."

"This means that Congress, without knowledge of all the facts, can disregard the advice of the President and the Cabinet and legislate against the interests of Canada or any other country."

Sen. Robertson said Congress about 1½ years ago passed legislation barring the entry of some Canadian dairy products to the United States. The action was contrary to the wishes of President Truman.

During visits to the United States, Canadian parliamentarians could obtain first-hand knowledge of problems in the United States, Sen. Robertson said. Members of Congress on visits to this country could become acquainted with Canada's problems, particularly those arising out of relationships with the United States.

A-Bomb Pilot Says Spies Got Into Base Where Crew Trained

WASHINGTON (AP)—Col. Paul W. Tibbets, pilot of the plane which dropped the first atomic bomb on Japan, said today foreign agents penetrated the secret B29 base in Utah where the first A-bomb crew was trained.

Tibbets said agents of two foreign countries were arrested within the closely guarded airbase at Wendover, Utah, at a time when only a handful of scientists and high military men knew about the bomb.

He did not name the countries nor say whether the agents had had an opportunity to learn any secrets. He said he did not know what became of the agents, that the Manhattan District took charge of them. The Manhattan District was the Army code name for the A-bomb development project.

There was no immediate opportunity to ask him about these details, and no immediate comment from the Pentagon.

Tibbets made the statement while chatting informally early today with Air Force officials and others following a private showing of a new motion picture based in large part on his experiences.

Among those in the small group with which he talked was secretary of the Air Force Finletter, who showed signs of incredulity. Finletter asked how it could have been possible for spies to get into one of the most carefully guarded spots in the United States.

Tibbets replied Wendover was a busy bus and rail stop and the base itself was built on a fenced-off desert area on the Nevada-Utah border, a locality difficult to screen completely even with highly trained military police on hand.

The Associated Press recorded a broadcast which did not give the text of any of the messages. The radio list of Ohio prisoners included Pfc. Nathaniel S. Thomas, RA-15297574, extending greetings to Mrs. Elizabeth Thomas, 445 Liberty Ave., Alliance.

Texan's Death In Plane Crash Ruled Accident

SWEETWATER, Tex. (AP)—The death of Ollie William Cox, young rancher who told friends by aircraft radio, he was going to plunge his plane into the ground—and then did it—has been listed officially as an accident.

A complete report on the crash and death of the wealthy 23-year-old rancher will be made later by Civil Aeronautics Board's Bureau of Safety Investigations.

Justice of the Peace M. C. Manroe, however, yesterday returned a verdict of accidental plane crash as the cause of death.

The youth's father agreed. "The boy didn't intend to kill himself," Fort Stockton, Tex., rancher Ollie Cox said. "He was just kidding his friends and lost control of the plane."

Manroe said, "How do we know that the man didn't change his mind 10 seconds before he hit the ground? How do we know he didn't black out?"

After friends had pleaded with him for three hours Sunday morning Cox picked out a gravel pit on a ranch near here as a target and dived from an altitude of 6,800 feet.

"I'll meet you at the gravel pit," he told the friends by radio.

Minutes before his five-place plane plowed into mesquite-studded terrain he had said, "If you had done what I did, what would you do? You wouldn't land." At intervals he could be heard sobbing.

British Give Priority To Big Jet Airliners

LONDON (AP)—Production priority higher even than some armaments manufacture has been given to three commercial jet airliners in Britain's drive to speed up her exports.

The government yesterday put the three jetliners—the Comet, prop-jet Viscount and Britannia—in the new "superiority" classification Prime Minister Churchill introduced last March as a means of speeding modern planes to the Royal Air Force.

Two big new jet bombers—the Avro Delta and the crescent-winged HP80—also were given the top priority classification, raising the number of planes in that category to 11.

Russians To Open Big Radio Attack

BONN, Germany (AP)—The Russians are planning a gigantic radio offensive against the West in 1953.

It's designed to black out stations still piercing the Iron Curtain and to extend the Kremlin's "hate the West" propaganda broadcasts to new millions in free Europe.

Allied officials here have reported this to their governments after studying intelligence reports on radio developments in Soviet-occupied East Germany.

Until recently the Voice of America, RIAS, the powerful American station in Berlin, and the British Broadcasting Corporation could be heard by East Germans without interference from the Russian jamming system.

Now Russian technicians and German workers are feverishly building a chain of high-powered transmitters in East Germany from the Baltic to the Czechoslovak border.

Allied officials believe the Russians first will use this new radio chain to jam these Western stations and then to hurl a barrage of vicious propaganda broadcasts to Western Europe.

Seton Hall Now In Second Place

LaSalle Warriors Skid To Third After Loss

NEW YORK (AP) — Kansas State took over first place in the Associated Press basketball poll today as LaSalle of Philadelphia, upset by DePaul, skidded to third. Seton Hall moved up a notch to second.

The top 10 generally underwent a good shaking up but there were only two new faces in the group—Tulsa, No. 8, and Minnesota, No. 9, who moved in to oust Louisiana State and North Carolina State.

LSU was soundly thrashed by Tulsa last week, 84-58, while N. C. State took an unexpected lacing from St. John's of Brooklyn, 67-55. Minnesota beat second-ranked Illinois, 77-73.

Kansas State's chief exploit of the week was a 93-69 triumph over Oklahoma. One hundred and one sportswriters and broadcasters, participating in the poll, were sufficiently impressed to move the Wildcats from fifth to first place and give them 512 points.

Seton Hall had 507 points and LaSalle 381.

Here's how the new top 10 stacks up: Kansas State, Seton Hall, LaSalle, Illinois, Washington, Holy Cross, Oklahoma A&M, Tulsa, Minnesota and Western Kentucky.

Illinois fell from second to fourth as a result of its defeat by Minnesota. Washington, twice winner over St. Louis, climbed from seventh to fifth. Holy Cross dropped two notches to sixth.

The rankings are based on games through last Saturday night and do not include last night's contests.

Kansas State won its sixth game in seven starts by trimming Yale, 79-70, in the Big Seven Tournament at Kansas City last night.

Middletown, Lockland Wayne Loom Again As State Titlists

COLUMBUS, O. (AP) — Ohio's schoolboy cagers got up a full head of steam today and headed down the straight-away through thousands of basketball games and into the do-or-die competition.

Many teams crowded in a dozen games ahead of the holidays and built up impressive records.

Both defending state champions, Middletown in Class A and Lockland Wayne in Class B, loom as strong contenders again this year. But the runners-up Steubenville and Nelsonville, have staggered at the start and appear headed for so-so seasons.

The mighty Middies, who snapped Steubenville's 28-game streak in the state finals last year, are unbeaten in six games. Coach Paul Walker has a lineup studded with lettermen and employs a two-rotation system.

Lockland Wayne has a 6-2 record, one of the setbacks coming at the hands of ever-potent Hamilton Public by a 58-53 count.

Delphos St. Johns, one-time "B" kingpin, is an early favorite to make the state tournament. Delphos has a 9-0 mark and has averaged more than 70 points per game.

Beverly, in Washington County, sports one of the best offensive teams in the state, having averaged 88 per game in 10 straight triumphs. Sulphur Springs has averaged 80 in taking seven of eight. Its top count was a 112-94 win over New Washington in which Demont Sponseller rimmed 39 and Ronnie Kalb 28.

In Class A, Canton Timken took it on the chin for the first time after six wins, and Dayton Stivers,

Eddie Sawyer Says He'll Quit Baseball

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Eddie Sawyer, fired last June as manager of the Philadelphia Phillies, announced today he was quitting baseball in favor of private business.

Sawyer, former Ithaca (N.Y.) College professor, who directed the Phillies to the 1950 National League pennant, was removed in mid-season this year as manager and given a job in the club's front office. He was succeeded by Steve O'Neill.

His retirement from baseball after 18 years in the game in both the minor and major leagues, dispelled recurrent rumors that Sawyer would succeed Red Haney as pilot of the Hollywood club in the Pacific Coast League. Haney recently was named manager of the Pittsburgh Pirates.

"They have enough brains in the front office," Sawyer said in discussing his resignation. "I decided to step out and go into business where I can make as much money as I did with the Phillies."

He declined to say exactly what his future plans were.

Patterson Scores TKO Over Sabotin

BROOKLYN (AP)—You can expect to see a lot of Floyd Patterson in 1953.

An Olympic champion, this Brooklyn youth appears to be one of the rising stars in the boxing business.

Patterson made his fourth start as a pro Monday night and knocked out Lulu Sabotin of Warren, O., in the fifth round. The bout, carried on the Dumont TV network, was held at the Eastern Parkway Arena.

Patterson, 167½, had little trouble with Sabotin, 175. Sabotin almost went down in the third round, and the ref stepped in to end it as Patterson was teeing off in the fifth round.

long a power and ex-state champ, has a 4-1 mark. Stivers' lone setback was by a slim margin to Muncie Central, Indiana State Champion the last two years and currently ranked first in the Hoosier State.

Tecumseh, which moved to Class A by a merger of New Carlisle and Olive Branch, has mowed down eight straight opponents. Dayton Roosevelt (5-1) boasts one of the tallest teams in the state with five varsity players over 6-feet-4. Three are starters.

Waynesfield slapped Roundhead 118-42, as Doyle Price hooped 42 and Fred Taylor 37. Holloway's Bob Crawford had 38 and Belmont Al Gatten 37 as Holloway snared an 89-81 win. Dean Foraker of Forest Grove and Mark Walker of Somerset Holy Trinity also turned in 37-point performances.

Two top-notch football ends who excel in the cage sport are Middletown's Bob Ashley and Columbus West's Jerry Trabue.

Ashley, 6-foot-4 senior, made all-Ohio second teams in basketball and football and collected 132 points in his first five games this season. He recently broke the 1,000 mark for his high school career. Trabue has totaled 148 for eight games.

Ed Jordan, Sebring forward, hit 40 points for the second time this year in a 75-61 win over Newton Falls. Duane Baker totaled 37 for Celina. Hank Woehler had 36 for Wapakoneta St. Joe and Ben Baxter 34 in a Columbus Grove victory over Glandorf.

All - Ohio Leroy Thompson is averaging nearly 29 per game for Waynesburg, victor in six straight games.

Other hot class "B" outfits are Wayne of Clinton County (11-0), Amesbury of Athens County (11-0), Seven Mile (7-0), South Zanesville (10-0) and Wayne of Montgomery County (10-2).

Niles McKinley and Brookfield lead Trumbull County contenders, McKinley with 6-0 and Brookfield with 7-0.

Paul Ebert Of OSU, Davis Of Iowa Star

CHICAGO (AP)—Sensational scoring by Deacon Davis and Paul Ebert gave Iowa and Ohio State impressive Big Ten basketball victories Monday night.

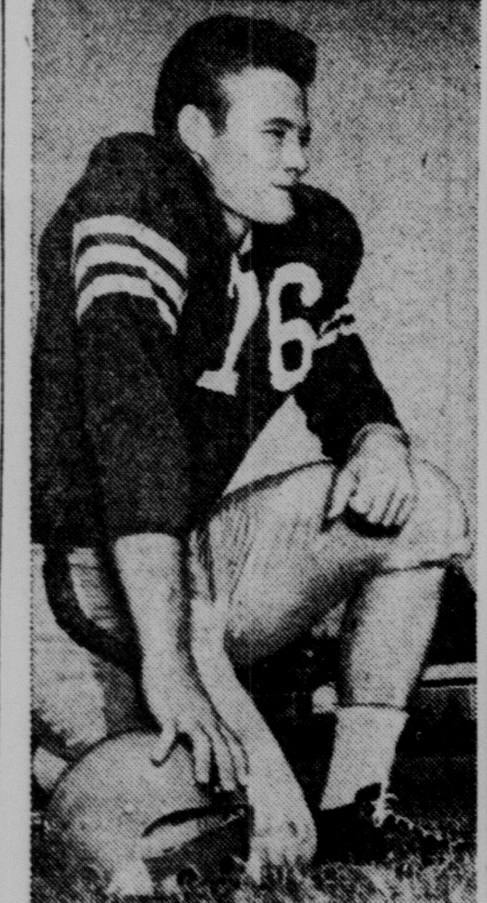

Davis pumped in 30 points to lead the Hawkeyes over Wisconsin 83-66 at Iowa City.

Ohio State trimmed Northwestern at Columbus, 82-70, with Ebert flicking in 30 points.

The Wildcats, trailing only 33-29 at the half, fell apart completely when their 6-foot-8 center, Frank Petracek, fouled out midway through the third period. Petracek bagged only six points.

Ebert, 6-foot-4 center, hit 11 baskets in 28 attempts and eight free tosses in 15 tries.

Ohio State now has a 1-1 record while Northwestern is last with 0-2. Butler surprised Michigan 67-63 in a non-league engagement at Ann Arbor. Sophomore Paul Groffsky topped the Wolverines with 19 points but Butler's Jim Croley took scoring honors with 21.

ON THE BOWL—All-America Tackle Kline Gilbert, left, of Mississippi waits for New Year's Day and an appointment with all-conquering Georgia Tech in the New Orleans Sugar Bowl. Big Joe D'Agostino, center, will go both ways for Florida when the Gators meet Tulsa in the Jacksonville Gator Bowl. End Buck Martin will be on the catching end when Georgia Tech takes to the air against Ole Miss.

U.S. Net Team Badly Beaten

Aussies Hand Them Davis Cup Drubbing

By GAYLE TALBOT

ADELAIDE, Australia (AP)—America's Davis Cup debacle became complete today when Vic Seixas and Tony Trabert collapsed under the fierce pressure applied by Ken McGregor and Frank Sedgman and lost the deciding doubles match by scores of 6-3, 6-4, 1-6, 6-4.

The blistering defeat will go down as one of the most one-sided in cup history.

Numerous times in the past teams have dropped the first three matches in the Challenge Round but research fails to uncover when one side was able to win only one set in two days.

Seixas and Trabert really never had a chance against the brilliant Aussie pair today. From the moment Trabert dropped his opening service to give the Aussies a 3-0 jump it was completely obvious to the capacity crowd of over 15,000 that they were sitting in on a slaughter.

For the second straight day McGregor played probably the most brilliant tennis of his career. He so dominated the court that there was no place for the Americans to go but out.

The losers managed to break Sedgman's service twice during their one brief victory in the third set but then never got to his long-legged partner.

The Americans were wild as hares at the start and by the time they settled down to something approaching their normal games it was too late.

In the first set Trabert was netting the ball and Seixas was knocking it out. In the second set, they reversed the procedure with the same sad result.

In those two sets Sedgman and McGregor scored clean winners—the majority of them on McGregor's volleys. In these two sets, the Americans scored only nine placements—six of them by Seixas.

Trabert's erratic form might be largely attributed to the exhaustion he suffered in losing his yesterday's killing heat.

The weather today was almost cool by comparison but the change came too late to do Tony, the sailor boy from Cincinnati, any good.

Seixas said he would make up his mind later whether he and Trabert would play in tomorrow's concluding singles or perhaps turn one match over to Ham Richardson, the youngster from Baton Rouge, La.

Kansas State, Kansas Make Finals Of Big 7 Tournament

NEW YORK (AP)—Kansas State, the nation's new No. 1 college basketball power, goes after its third Big Seven Tournament title tonight—but a familiar club stands in the way, the Kansas Jayhawks.

K-State today replaced LaSalle of Philadelphia as the top team in The Associated Press poll, and tonight the Wildcats will try to prove their right to the No. 1 ranking by whipping Kansas.

The K-Staters eased into the finals of the Big Seven tournament Monday night by tripping Yale, 79-70. Kansas, defending NCCA champion, gained the final round by defeating Missouri, 66-62.

This was only one of many holiday tournaments around the country.

At Oklahoma City, the seventh-ranked Oklahoma Aggies—who usually win this one—led the way into the semi-finals with a 68-61 win over Penn State.

The Aggies, seeking their 10th title, were joined in the round of four by Oklahoma City, the defending titleholder, Wyoming and Idaho.

Oklahoma City, breezed past Bowling Green, 65-58.

At Raleigh, N. C., meanwhile, the Dixie Classic also rolled into the semi-finals, with Brigham Young, Wake Forest, Holy Cross and North Carolina State surviving.

In Boston's Invitational Tourney the big news was the defeat of Seattle's "Whiz Kinds" by Georgetown. The Hoyas from Washington, D. C., burst the Seattle bubble, 79-70, but couldn't stop little John-

Williamson Says USC Rates Edge

Trojans' Hill Calls Game "Strictly Even"

PASADENA, Calif. (AP)—The man who will guide Wisconsin into the Rose Bowl New Year's Day, Coach Ivy Williamson, said today he thinks the Trojans of Southern California rate the edge accorded them by the experts in pre-game calculations.

Southern California's coach, Jess Hill, sticks to another view. He feels this clash between the co-champions of the Big Ten and his coast conference titleholders is "strictly even."

Williamson bases his belief mainly on the ground that "USC has a more impressive record than we have"—nine straight victories, including such victims as Northwestern, Army, California and UCLA, and one defeat, to Notre Dame, in the season's windup.

"And," Williamson continued, "the possible absence of our left halfback, Harland Carl, makes a definite difference."

"Williamson isn't quite sure, he said, what fate awaits Carl when kickoff time comes at 2 p. m., (5 p. m., EST) Thursday for the 10,000 best spectators and the millions of television fans around the nation.

He has definitely named alternate halfback Bill Hutchinson to lead off against the Trojans.

Timing In Relation To Steak Broiling

Broiling steaks with a professional touch is simple. There are no tricks. The secret is the selection of top-quality steak, knowledge of your broiler and careful timing.

Select the steak which best fits your purposes and your pocketbook. While some of the less tender cuts of beef may be broiled satisfactorily, there are six steaks which are recommended for broiling. These include the most tender and expensive of all steaks, the beef tenderloin or fillet; the T-bone or porterhouse; the club steak; the pin-bone sirloin and the wedge-bone sirloin.

The whole sirloin steak is usually considered a "family" steak and is cooked whole and carved into servings at table. Because the pin-bone sirloin contains a greater percentage of bone, you may find it is priced lower than the other steaks. The T-bone or porterhouse, cut 1 1/2 to 2 inches thick, will serve several people depending on its thickness and size. The club and strip steaks are individual steaks.

In buying a steak, remember the meat should be a dull red with ample fat covering and fat streaks throughout the meat. For broiling, have the steak cut 1 to 2 inches thick. Steak cut thinner than 1 inch should be pan-broiled.

Purchase one-third to 3/4-pound bone-in steak per serving unless you are buying an individual steak for each person. Steak should be served sizzling from the broiler.

To broil: First slash the fat edge of the steak to prevent curling. Heat the broiling oven and pan and rub the broiler rack with a little trimmed-off fat from the steak to prevent the meat from sticking.

Lay the steaks on the rack in the broiler pan and adjust the pan so that the top of the steak is 2 to 3 inches from the heat source.

Broil the steak on one side and season. Turn with tongs to prevent piercing the meat and broil on the other side. To test for doneness, slit the meat near the bone and note the color.

Here is an accurate timetable for steak broiling:

To prepare 1-inch thick steak—rare, broil 5 minutes; medium rare, broil 6 minutes; well-done, broil 7 to 8 minutes.

To prepare 1 1/2-inch thick steak—rare, broil 9 minutes; medium rare, broil 10 minutes; well-done, broil 20 to 21 minutes.

To prepare 2-inch thick steak—rare, broil 16 minutes; medium rare, broil 18 minutes; well-done, broil 20 to 21 minutes.

1/2 pound sweet milk chocolate
1/4 pound unsweetened chocolate
3 1/2 cups cereal
Red candy decorations
Melt chocolate over hot but not boiling water; stir in whole wheat flakes, mixing until cereal is well coated. Divide mixture into three parts.

Holiday Wreaths: Place spoonfuls of mixture on waxed paper, and with two forks form into wreaths. Decorate with tiny red candies and bits of green mint gumdrops to resemble holly. Serve when cool.

Almond Drops: Drop mixture by spoonfuls onto waxed paper. Press whole blanched almond into top of each. Serve when cool.

Merry Crisp-Trees: Press spoonfuls of mixture, on waxed paper and with two forks form into triangular shapes to resemble trees. Press 1 1/4-in. pieces of stick candy into the base of each triangle to form tree trunk. Serve when cool.

Do not place any of these confections into the refrigerator to cool. Cold air puts a "bloom" on chocolate and cooked sugars.

INDIA CHICKEN SPREAD

Ham Patty Croquettes--Tuna Fish Gives No-Waste Protein

Tuna is on the Department of agriculture's list of November and December plentiful foods. It's about the most popular canned fish and gives no-waste protein for a reasonable price.

Broiled Tuna with Souffle Sauce
2 7-ounce cans solid-pack tuna
One-third cup mayonnaise
1/4 cup drained pickle relish
1/4 cup chopped parsley
2 teaspoons lemon juice
1/4 teaspoon salt
1 egg white, beaten stiff
Drain oil from tuna and reserve

1 tablespoon. In an 8-inch pie plate, arrange tuna which has been broken into large pieces with a fork. Brush with reserved 1 tablespoon oil. Broil 3-4 inches from source of heat for 2 minutes.

Meanwhile, in a bowl combine mayonnaise, pickle relish, parsley, lemon juice and salt; mix thoroughly. Fold beaten egg white into mayonnaise mixture. Spread souffle sauce in even layer over tuna. Broil 1-2 minutes longer, or until sauce is puffed and lightly browned. Serve immediately. Make 4-6 servings.

Tuna Mornay Pie

3 1/2-ounce cans chunk-type tuna
Two-thirds cup chili sauce
1 tablespoon lemon juice
1/4 teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons all-purpose flour
1/2 cup milk
1 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon freshly ground pepper
1 1/2 cups grated Cheddar cheese
1/2 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
1 unbaked 9-inch pastry shell, well chilled
Paprika

Drain tuna, reserving 3 tablespoons oil for use in cheese sauce. In a bowl, combine tuna, chili sauce, lemon juice and 1/2 teaspoon salt. In a saucepan, heat 3 tablespoons tuna oil over low heat; add flour and blend. Gradually add milk and continue cooking until thickened, stirring constantly.

Add 1 teaspoon salt, pepper, grated cheese and Worcestershire sauce; stir until cheese is melted. Combine cheese sauce and tuna mixture; pour into unbaked pie shell. Sprinkle with paprika. Bake on lower shelf in moderately hot oven (400 degrees F.) 30-35 minutes, or until pastry is done and cheese is browned and bubbly. Makes one 9-inch pie.

HAMBURGER, GREEN PEAS

2 tablespoons butter or margarine

1/2 teaspoon celery salt
1/4 teaspoon pepper
2 tablespoons plus 2 teaspoons flour
1 1/2 cups milk
1/2 to 3/4 cup cooked drained peas
Melt butter in medium-size sauce pan; cook onion in it until lightly browned. Add beef and mash with fork until crumbly and it loses its red color. Stir in well the salt, celery salt, pepper, and flour. Add milk and cook over low heat, stirring constantly, until sauce thickens and bubbles. Stir in peas; reheat. Serve on crisp toast. Makes 4 servings.

Turn into buttered 1-quart baking dish; place in pan of hot water and bake in moderate (350 F.) oven 30 to 35 minutes or until firm. Beat egg whites until frothy; gradually beat in remaining 1/4 cup sugar until whites are stiff. Spread meringue on baked pudding and continue baking about 15 minutes longer or until meringue is lightly browned. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

1952 Strikes Near Record

4,950 Stoppages Reported In U. S.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 30 (AP)—The year now closing brought more strikes and more idleness from work stoppages than any period since the industrial convulsions of 1946, the Labor Department reported today.

It said 4,950 stoppages began in 1952. This was close to the record of 4,985 set in 1946 when labor went after its "first round" of post-war wage boosts.

The 1946 strike wave had much to do with enactment of the Taft-Hartley Industrial Relations Act in the following year. Stoppages in 1952 exceeded—in number of shutdowns, workers involved, and days of production lost—any previous year under the Taft-Hartley law.

Thirty-four major stoppages, involving more than 10,000 workers each, were recorded in the survey made by the Bureau of Labor Statistics (BLS). The biggest was the two-month strike of the CIO United Steelworkers.

AFI unions were involved in 17 of the major stoppages, CIO unions in 12, and independent unions in 6. The industry most hit was construction; it had 7 big strikes, 5 of them affecting projects of the Atomic Energy Commission.

Strikes of all sizes outnumbered the 1951 total by about 5 per cent, but man-days of idleness more than doubled—increasing from 22,900,000 in 1951 to 55 million this year. (A man-day is the time of one man for one day.)

Some 3 1/2 million workers were involved in this year's stoppages, as against 2,200,000 last year.

Economic issues, primarily wages, were the dominant cause of the large shutdowns, BLS said. In several cases, including the steel strike, the wage issue was related to demands for union security.

Sesquicentennial Events Scheduled

COLUMBUS, O. (AP)—The first event of Ohio's sesquicentennial will take place Jan. 8 in Washington, where the Ohio Territory was declared a state 150 years ago.

Gov. Frank J. Lausche signed the sesquicentennial proclamation Monday. Although the celebration doesn't start officially until March 1, the Washington ceremony and other preliminary events are scheduled.

Dr. Carl F. Witke, dean of the graduate school of Western Reserve University, will speak at the opening of the Ohio exhibit at the Library of Congress. The state's senior senator, Robert A. Taft, will preside at the ceremonies.

Other events include: Jan. 24, naming of Miss Ohio Sesquicentennial in Columbus; Feb. 14, opening of the Ohio River Museum at Wellsville in Columbiana County and a railroad excursion from Cleveland to Wellsville.

Feb. 15, fourth annual folk festival in Cleveland; Feb. 19, dinner and program in Washington by the Ohio Society of the District of Columbia.

Feb. 21, dedication of a marker in Cincinnati by the Daughters of the American Revolution; Feb. 27-28, sixth annual international golf festival at Wilmington College.

Feb. 22-28, observance by the Ohio Society of Engineers in conjunction with National Engineers Week.

Rain Continues On Pacific Coast Areas

By The Associated Press
There were a few wet spots and temperatures were around seasonal levels over most of the country today.

Light rain continued falling over the coasts of Oregon, Washington and Northern California. Another belt of rain extended from Southern Texas along the Gulf in Louisiana and Southern Mississippi. The only other precipitation area was the upper Great Lakes region where light snow fell in northern areas and light rain and snow in Lower Michigan.

Temperatures varied early today from below zero readings in parts of the Upper Mississippi Valley to the 60's in Florida and extreme Southern Texas. Miami reported 70 above early this morning. It was -1 in Grand Forks, N. D.
